MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Cautionary Statement

The management Discussion and Analysis Report may contain certain statements that might be considered forward looking. These statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ materially from those expressed in the statement as important factors could influence Company's operations such as Government policies, economic development, political factors and such other factors beyond the control of the Company.

Overview

The most modernized plant for the manufacturing of Vanaspati& Refined oil was established in the year 1993 with the STATE-OF-THE ART technology of Alfa Level and market trends, the company has never let go of an opportunity to expand and modernize, to Thermos, esteemed and renowned suppliers of process plants. With changing technologies and keep up with competition and add new products, such as bakery/ biscuit/ puff products. Quality control norms are religiously followed at the unit to cater to a wide variety of the customers. With a full-fledged quality control laboratory for testing facility, analysis of all incoming materials, intermediate process quality parameters & finished products are smoothly done by a team of qualified and experienced technologists/chemists.

ASL has a major share of the market in Northern India, which is also its core market. ASL is well known for fulfilling its commitments, even under the most stringent conditions, whether to its buyers or suppliers.

Superior procurement and trading skills, continuous innovation, an endeavor to meet consumer needs and stringent quality control standards have enabled AJANTA to emerge as a highly-respected and admired Edible Oil company.

Company is also investing continuously towards energy saving by adopting appropriate technologies as a measure to contribute to reduction in industrial pollution.

Industrial Outlook

Indian edible oil sector is, by and large, a price conscious and price sensitive market, as a substantial part of consumption takes place at the bottom end of the pyramid. The propensity to consume is correlated with the changes in prices of edible oil and the quantum of disposable income. Food remains an important item of expenditure to warrant large share of spending. There has been a consistent demand growth over a period and the pattern is also expected to continue in the foreseeable future. However, the pattern of consumption of edible oil is moving towards packed and/ or branded form due to factors such as, amongst others, rising incomes coupled with changes in household demographics, improving health consciousness, growing organized retail improving reach of the products across the country, visual advertisements etc. Thus the growth of edible oil in packed form has far exceeded the industry wide growth rate over the last five years. In the foreseeable future, it is envisaged that the overall quantum of edible oil consumption will continue to grow significantly in the packed segment, with the pattern of consumption shifting from unpacked to packed form, across different layers of positioning from "mass" to "class" markets. Also, owing to growing health consciousness, certain markets could be created for high value and differentiated products from health and wellness point of view. Consistency in quality and availability, market positioning, functional differentiation and perception of high value will be key deliverables for sustaining growth in niche segments.

According to the industry estimates, the consumption of edible oil is expected to increase from the current level of approximately 18 million MT to over 20 million MT by the year 2015. Due to lower domestic supply and increasing demand, the import of edible oil will rise to meet the demand-supply gap. In order to encourage farmers in taking up higher oil seeds cultivation, the Government of India declared a significant increase in the Minimum Support Prices of oil seeds (MSP), which is expected to divert higher acreage to oil seed crop.

The edible oil industry in India is in a consolidation phase. Enterprises having strong business capabilities in terms of integration of the value chain, risk management, working capital management, efficiencies in procurement, logistics and distribution, manufacturing presence at strategic locations across the country and strong consumer focus, that have undertaken expansion of their market share through organic and inorganic route coupled with introduction of new and innovative products - including presence through branded products, will enjoy the gains in the times to come.

Opportunities & Threats

The new age Indian consumer, the organized retail potential which is creating the huge consumption opportunity is by far the biggest Opportunity for companies like us. With the aspirational and rich class in India having a better penetration, our brand led growth will help the company in both the immediate and long run. Also, with the rural India being revisited by marketers through the modern retail (haat) philosophy, the opportunity is huge.

India is also seeing a great increase in life style led diseases like heart ailments and cardio vascular illness which is said to rise much higher than other nations; this creates a potential for healthy edible oil. Competition from Indian and global players remain a matter of concern and probable threat; while the company is well prepared to tackle such issues on an ongoing basis.

Risks & Concern

The Company is exposed to price fluctuation in its business. All major raw materials as well as finished goods being agro-based are subject to market price variations. Prices of these commodities continue to be linked to both domestic and international prices, which in turn are dependent on various Macro / Micro factors.

The policies announced by the Government have been progressive and are expected to remain likewise in future, and have generally taken an equitable view towards various stake holders, including domestic farmers, industry, consumers etc.

Human resource / Industrial relations

The Company recognizes the importance and contribution of its human resources for its growth and development and is committed to the development of its people. The Company has cordial relations with employees and staff. There are no industrial relations problems during the year and the Company does not anticipate any material problems on this count in the current year. The management is also committed to help the employees and workers to sharpen their skills and to improve their knowledge base for which continuous efforts are made on training and development.

The Internal Control Systems and procedure are adequate and commensurate with the size of the Company. These business control procedures ensure efficient use and protection of the resources and compliance with the policies, procedures and status.

In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
